

Rebecca Ogujor

Live-in Care Manager – Lancashire

Meet Rebecca, the Live-in Care Manager for Lancashire

About me

Hi, I'm Rebecca. I am responsible for overseeing the live-in care services we provide in Lancashire, which involves ensuring my carers, their customers, and their customers' loved ones are fully supported at all points of their care journey. I have lived in Lancashire for well over 20 years now and have a really close connection with the area and the people who live there.

Experience

I've gained a wealth of hands-on experience having worked in the care sector for over 10 years. I began my career as a carer in both domiciliary and residential settings, where I was responsible for supporting young adults living with learning disabilities and mental health problems, before progressing to a Deputy Manager in a residential care home, where many residents were living with dementia.

These roles have given me a true insight into the position of both carer and customer, which allows me to carry out my work at Helping Hands to a very high standard. I love helping our carers to support the wonderful people of Lancashire and it's great being able to share what I've learnt with my team.

Throughout my time with Helping Hands, I've been involved in supporting people with complex care needs and it's been incredibly rewarding to be able to fully support our customers' needs. The work we do at Helping Hands allows us to empower those we care for to remain in control of their own lives.

Why I chose Helping Hands

I chose Helping Hands as I like that the company is family owned and run, with over twenty eight years' experience. I also believe strongly in the company values, which are values that I personally believe in. Plus, everyone is so passionate about care and the work they do.
